

ADOPT OR FOSTER ABANDONED RABBITS

Defenseless domestic rabbits are dumped into the wild to starve (or much worse) far too often—especially after Easter. But we have rescued and rehabilitated hundreds of adorable buns who need loving homes.

Here's how you can help:

✓ ADOPT

Bring some furry joy into your home. Don't worry, we'll guide you through how to give your healthy new buns the best possible care.

✓ FOSTER

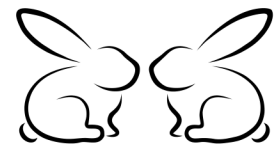

We have more buns than space. Can't make a long-term commitment? Help us keep some buns safe and happy—only for as long you want.

✓ VOLUNTEER

This began as a one person operation and relies on the kind hearts and amazing help of people who care about saving the lives of furry friends.

✓ DONATE

All food, medicine, equipment, travel, and vet bills are paid out of my pocket or through donations. Help is always needed.
